

Home run

The sermon jam today was by Leonard Ravenhill, and it was about praying. My bible verse was Zephaniah 3:17. For worship we listened to Come to the Altar

The book I read for reading today was The Meg. I got to page 74 where it was just revealed that a character the protagonist didn't like was going to be working the same job.

For math Luke and I looked at math vocabulary, exponents, and pre-algebra. For American history we talked about World War 2. I had a Hot Pocket for lunch and we played baseball outside. Luke was having some temper problems and would throw the bat and rip up grass and plants when he got an out, but other than that he played well. For physics we watched part of a video on the Steel Vengeance roller coaster

School Day

We all prayed together then ate breakfast. After that we started heart prep. For worship we listened to Grace Got You. My Bible verse was Psalms 85:2. Our sermon jam was about indwelling sin

After cleaning I tested Luke in spelling, and he got 92%. Then for math we worked on pre-algebra. For American history we learned about World War 2

After American history we all went to the thrift store with mom. Once we were back we made lunch. Because of the thrift store, our time schedule resumed on dishes.
