Science Probably Could Have Given Us Something More Useful Than This

giant puppet, but I found it pretty cool when I came across it the other day. Check out the frenzied movements of the puppeteers in red — there are lines of men, and they take turns running and jumping to pull the ropes to move the huge puppet.