

Something to Blog About!!

As you know I really don't blog too much... Er... At all! But I do have something to blog about today – MY GIRLS ARE HOME!!!
Waaaaahhhhooooo!!

Our three little girls were with Grandma for a week (actually, a little over a week) as they are every summer. The girls really love going to Grandma's house and Lisa and I really enjoy the time we have to indulge in each other. This year Lisa and I got to do some really fun stuff too. We just had the greatest time together (with Beeber). But, the girls return home is always a joyous occasion – it is so great to have them home! With much of the summer still ahead of us I am sure we will have soooo much fun.

That is all – no mega-post from me... I just needed to get the excitement out – THE GIRLS ARE HOME!!!!