Added blog to Friends

Well, at least until I think of what to get you since I forgot about it again- I seriously need to get a wife to remember these things for me, though of course in return I will get pounded for forgetting her birthday, or worse- our anniversary. Yes, I would be that stereotypical husband.