

The answer to Life, the Universe and Everything

Yes, this is my 42nd blog post. And a great lead into another thing to write about. Another of my favorite things to do is read. I am a big time reader. Most of the time I tend to read fiction. Science fiction and Fantasy are my favorites, with mysteries coming in a close third. Believe it or not, I've never read the "Hitchhikers Guide" I did catch some of the BBC radio series, but never got through the whole story. I can't remember why it was taken off local radio, but I don't think they ever finished it. Someday, I'll have to check and see if they have it on tape or DVD. I may have to see the movie and read the books too, but I want to experience the radio show first.
